Uncle Jim Brenks Loose. Uncle Jim claims a sort of proprietary right in his namesake, and admitted that the game was entirely too tame for him, until his 'nephy' began the heavy part of the work. After that, or after said 'nephy' had retired his brothers of the soil in the fifth with nary a run and nary a hit, he broke loose, "broke loose" being a very gentle term for his storm of applause. Then, when Sam Brennegan. whose knock for three bases and his pilfer of the home plate had accounted for the first two Goober tallies, crumpled before three of Jim, Jr.'s. curves, Jim. All-Star Games Declared Off

Charlotte, N. C., September 2.—Tommy Stouch, former manager of Asheville club, has left the team and gone to his former home, in Greenville, S. C., where he will try to form a South Carolina League, composed of Greenville, Spartanburg, Anderson, Augusta, Columbia and Sumter. Stouch was to have carried a picked team from the Carolina League to play a series of games with a picked team from the Virginia League, but because he has been deposed as manager of Ashville the trip is abandoned. The team which was to have accompanied him to Virginia has declined to do so, or rather the whole thing was dismissed by common consent on the part of all concerned. Lonnie Noojin has been made manager of Asheville team,

Manager Pressly, of Roanoke, now playing in Newport News, could not be reached last night either by telegram or long-distance telephone. It may be that a series of games can yet be arranged. If none can be, Secretary Brailey may try to secure games with one of the teams in the South Atlantic League. He has already been approached by several clubs.

BRENNAN'S DECISION REVERSED BY LYNCH

Phillies Get Game Forfeited to New York by Umpire Last Saturday-No Precedent for Ruling, Says Head of National League.

New York, September 2.—Reversing the decision of Umpire Brennan, President Thomas J. Lynch, of the National League, announced this afternoon that the game of Saturday, August 30, between the New York and Philadelphia clubs will count as a victory for the Philadelphia team. Umpire Brennan awarded the contest to the Giants by a 9 to 0 score when the Philadelphia management was unable to clear a section of the bleachers back of centre field, claiming the moving spectators handicapped New York batters. The decision almost precipitated a riot, and the members of the New York club were afforded police protection to their President Lynch states that Umpire Brennan exceeded his authority in declaring the game forfeited to the New York club, and formally awards it to the Philadelphia team by a score of 8 to 6, which was the score by which the Phillies led in the ninth inning when the game was stopped by the umpire.

"As Mr. Brennan's ruling is without precedent," President Lynch's decision reads, "I waive all technical procedure in ruling on this protest, in order that a prompt disposition of the affair may be had and the best interests of the game may be preserved."

IN THE WAKE OF THE GAME

BY GUS MALBERT.

It looks now as if Doctor Yancey Wyatt Ayers will be called upon to win the only game Richmond has taken in Petersburg this year. No positive announcement has been made regarding this, but Doc is the logical man for the job for more than one reason. He will oppose Harry Hedgepeth, should he start, and he has far greater chances of winning than any pitcher Manager Griffin has.

There was no need to analyze the game yesterday. A mere statement of what happened is enough. We made nine hits and one run, and Petersburg made seven hits and six runs. With one out in the eighth, the Colts knocked the ball safely three times in succession, yet no runner advanced as far as third base. Moreland led with a hit, and was thrown out by Keller when he overran second on Eberts's hit. H. Griffin followed with a tap, which sent Eberts to second, and then Lusky went out easily. Poor work on the coaching lines had as much to do with it as anything else, though in the case of Moreland the play was in front of him, and he should have seen where the ball was going.

Monk Walters must learn control if he hopes to stick in professional baseball.

If Ayers doesn't pitch to-day, then it will be Portpaw Ray.

It was sure good to listen to that Petersburg crowd cheering one of our own lads. It was young Jim Kelly, and he was born in Petersburg.

There be some who are still figuring Roanoke's chances to head Petersburg. Here are the figures: Thirteen more games are to be played. If Petersburg loses all the remaining gams and Roanoke wins all, which include a four-game series with the Goobers, Petersburg will have lost fifty-five and won eighty-three, while Roanoke will lead the league with eighty-seven won and fifty-four lost. If Petersburg wins two out of the thirteen and Roanoke wins all, then Petersburg will stand eighty-five won and fifty-three lost, while Roanoke will still have eighty-seven won and fifty-four lost. If Petersburg wins three more games, there will be no chance for Roanoke to overcome the lead, and the season will end with Petersburg eighty-six won and fifty-two lost.

Just a moment's study of the above will show that Roanoke has an impossible task to win the championship. By no way can it be figured that to suppose that Roanoke will win all. If Roanoke loses two, Petersburg Despite Close Score, Contest Perryman and Carter in Real can lose all and still finish ahead. In other words, they may as well measure the bunting now to fit the flagpole in the Goober park.

Comes again our old friend, numbers for football players. Walter St. Denis, sporting editor of the New York Globe, is strong for numbering the players. So are we. Anything that will give the public a better chance of understanding the plays, and thus popularizing the game, is good for football. But will Mr. St. Denis offer some suggestion as to how the number system can be worked so as not to interfere with executing plays. The chief objection to the numbering plan is that players may be too easily spotted and the defensive team given too free a hand in breaking up carefully laid plays. All of the football authorities agree that it would be good, but there must be some definite plan whereby no hardships will be worked upon the players and coaches, or the game's finer points interfered
